DRAWING AN OVERDRAFT ON THE BANK OF LIFE, Late Hours, Fagged, Unnatural Excitement, Breathing impure Air, too Rich Food, Alcoholic Brink, Couty, Rheumatic and other Blood Poisons, Fevers, Feverish

Influenza Colds, Sleeplessness, Billousness, Sick Hendache, Skin Eruptions, Pimples on the Face, Want of Appetite, Sourness of Stomach, &c. (It prevents Biarrhea, and removes it in the early stages.) USE ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT.'

It is Pleasant, Cooling, Soothing, Health-Civing, Refreshing and Invigorating.

-YOU CANNOT OVERSTATE ITS CREAT VALUE IN KEEPING THE BLOOD PURE AND FREE FROM DISEASE. "AS an illustration of the beneficial effects of ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT, I have no hesitation in giving the particulars of the case of one of my friends. SLUGGISH ACTION of the LIVER and BILLIOUS HEADACHE affected him, so he was obliged to live upomonly a few articles of diet, and to be most sparing in their use. This did nothing in effecting a cure, although persevered in for twenty-five years, and also consulting eminent members of the faculty. By themse of ENO'S FRUIT SALT he now ENJOYS VIGOROUS HEALTH; he has NEVER had a HEADACHE or CONSTIPATION since he commenced to use it, about six months ago, and can partake of his food to the great satisfaction of himself and friends. You may well extend its use fro bone publice. I find it makes a VERY REFRESHING and INVIGORATING DRINK—I remain, yours faithfully, J. W. NEIL."—(From the InterRev. J. W. Neil, Holy Trinity Church, North Shields.)

HEADACHE and Disordered Stornach.—"After suffering for nearly two and a half years from SEVERE HEADACHE and DISORDERED" STOMACII, and after trying almost everything, and spending much money, without finding any benefit, I was recommended by a friend to try ENO'S FRUIT SALT, and, before I had finished one bottle I found it doing me a GREAT DEAL of GOOD, and now I am RESTORED to MY USUAL HEALTH; and others I know that have tried it have NOT ENJOYED such GOOD HEALTH for years. -Yours most truly, Robert Humpitgeys, Post Office, Barrasford.".

The effect of ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT' on any DISORDERED and FEVERISH condition is SIMPLY MARVELLOUS. It is, in fact, NATURE'S OWN REMEDY and an UNSURPASSED ONE

CAUTION: - Examine each Bottle, and see CAPSULE is marked ENO'S FRUIT SALT! Without it, you have been imposed on by a WORTHLESS initiation. Prepared only by J. C. ENO, Ltd., at the 'FRUIT SALT' WORKS, LONDON, by J. C. ENG'S Patent.

A little after half-past 2 o'clock in the morning, Quartermaster Holmes, who was on duty on deck at the time, any smoke issuing from the companion ladder, and at once aroused the Chief Officer, who was usleep in the music room. Everyone ep the ship was soon alive to the perils of the position. Mr Lee at once had the pumps got to work, and a determined attempt was made to get the flames under control. It was evident, however, that either the fire had originated in some peculiarly conbustible material, or had obtained a secure footing before its presence was discovered, for, despite all efforts to drown it, it spread at a great rate. The Captain had some explosives jottisoned.

News of the outbreak having spread,-Captain Mathews' tug 'Princess, which was lying off Ballard Pier, being the first to observe the fire - bely began to arrive from various quarters: Mr Newell, Superintendent of the P. & O. Dockyard at Mazagon, RESERVE LIABILITY OF $10,000,000. despatched the Company's floating fire engine thence. The Port Trust engine was also on the soone, and the Police too, lent their sid. As far as saving the ship was concerned, however, all these willing workars could effect little or, nothing. Fanned C. Bourmann, Esq. R. L. Richardson, by a stiff breeze the fire continued to gain ground fast, and soon was raging in the whole of the midship portion of the vessel. Water was poured in as fast as the pumps could work, but to no visible purpose. ABANDONNENT OF THE VESSEL.

It gradually came to be realised that the old 'Ganges' would have to be abandoned. All the silver and other valuables on board were doposited in a small steamer, the Bandora, which was lying alongside This was all that could be saved; the Officers thus losing the bulk of their effects. The final decision to quit the ship was not taken until the fire had burst through the main deck and attacked the Captain's cabin, a deckbouse on the upper deck. DEBARKATION OF THE CREW.

Thora were a number of craft of various descriptions at hand, and Captain Mathews, knowing that the ships brats could not be launched, had ordered all tonics lying near Ballard Pier to the vicinity of the barning steamer, so there was no great difficulty in effecting a debarkation, ulthough so large a portion of the vessel was by this time given over to the flames.

REMOVAL TO THE HARBOUR. The Port Trust ongine, possessing pumps of enormous atrength and capable of throwing a large volume of water, and other steamers pla ed vigorously on the fire, but, as they were still unsuccessful in get-INTEREST on deposits in allowed at ting at the heart of it, a decision had to be come to as to what should be done with new transfer at their option balances of allowed to remain at her mourings the Sewren to Green Island, where the 'Gangos' Brounded in about eighteen feet of water, The Harbout Master, with a number of men in the service of the Fort Trust, remained by to acales the crow until the fire was finally aubdued.

THE DEATH OF THE STEWARD W. The fate of the Stewardesa, Mrs Atking, up to this time was not definitely known She occupied a babin on the port aide of the main deck, and several attempts were made by the chip's officers to reach her, but, on actount of the deuse amore and the near, ness of the Rames, this was impossible. About 9 clock the fire on the Canges' was so far subdued that Mr Mephail and Mr Sibbald, of the Princess, went on board, but the heat was so great that it was impossible to get further than the boilerhouse. Subsequently the Chief Stoward, Mr Harpour, recovered a few tharred bones, which was all that remained of the 1 to Stewardess, from the cabin. is surmised that, whon the slarm of fire was given, Mrs Atkins opened her cabin door, and was driven back by the rush of smoke. She was probably almost immediately suffocated by the fumen, and whether she attempted to escape by the port hole is purely a matter of conjecture; the flerceness of the blaze in her cabin is indicated by the fact that there was scarces ly a double handful of charred fragments of appeared, and only a portion of the hip-bone indicated the character of the relice. These, when recovered, were placed in a small box and removed to a room in the office of the P. & O. Company at Mazagon. G. FALCONER & Co., ARE AGENTS FOR ROSS'S FAMOUS TELESCOPES AND

U.S. Army Headquarters,

CAVITE, July 19, 1898, We have just been informed that a mai closes for Hongkong to-morrow morning. 80 I hasten to give you the latest news here. Yesterday, the Japanese cruiser Na niva arrived from Hongkong with news that stirred to its highest pitch the patriotic enthusiasm of the American soldiers and sailors. It was the news of Admiral Sampson's great victory at Santiago de Cuba. was out of camp when the nows first eached headquarters. On my return when I asked what had struck the camp.

I was shown a copy of the China Mail of the 6th inst. containing details of the affair. To say that the cuthusiasm of the Americans was intense is to describe the situation in the mildest possible form. There was none of tha braggart, bumptious spirit which some Britishers continue to regard as an indisponsable element in the composition of the American citizen. It was a healthy patriotic feeling of satisfaction that Admiral Sampson had triumphed as completely at Santiago as Admiral Dewey did in Manila Bay, and a fervent feeling of satisfaction that the victory had been achieved without serious loss of life. The victory seems to have instilled a spurt of activity in our caup. Shakespeare's excursions and alarums are now the order of the day. We feel instincfively that something is in the air, and that the capture of Manila is now matter of days.

We correspondents do not know for certain what is going to happen. General Anderson is in command, and I am not aware that he has consulted any of the correspondents as to what he ought to do, how he should do it, or when and where he should make the attack; so if you hear any circumstantial tales about the future and fate of Manila, accept them cum grano salis until you hear from me. hope soon to be in a position cable you from Manila. CAVITE, July 11, 1898 Thanks to the kindness of Brigadier General Anderson and and the officers of the 14th Regular Infantry, I am, to use American phrase, comfortably located in the Commandant's residence inside Cavi Arsenal, and have had an opportunity making myself acquainted with the American can troops.

Fortunately, the buildings in the arsena and the houses in the town austained very elight damage on the 1st of May; bu unfortunately the insurgents were permitted to loot and destroy without restraint, with the result that the encampment at Cavita is not quite so comfortable for the troops as it might have been. That, however a matter which will be remodied when the troops move into Manila.

It is, of course, impossible to set up comparisons between the American forces and a Continental army either in barraoks or on campaign. Comparisons are invariably odious. But one accustomed to the smart, alert, trim-European suldier cannot drill, dress and deportment of the American soldiers now assembled in Cavite. The total force is less than 2000. Of those. 400 odd belong to the Regular Army, consisting of five companies of the 14th Regiment, under the command of Captain Murphy, an old campaigner, who saw sorvice in the Civil War and who has been ongaged since then in many a frontier foray upon the Indians of the wild West. One of the companies had just returned from Alaska in time to join the expeditionary force under Brigadier General Thomas I Anderson. The Brigadier is the Colonel of the Regiment. The second defendant refused to pay his fare, and the three men then set upon the coolie and chaned him along the street. They returned to the wharf and lifting up the ricksha banged it down on the street, breaking the axle and the hood. A Chinese constable who interfered was assaulted. The constable blew his whistle, and one of the defendants snatched it away and knocked off the constable's hat. The hree defendants threw down the constable, and were only prevented from continuing the assault by the intervention of Mr.H. W. Wolfo, who came to assist the constable. Sergeant Scott then came up and took the blue ackets to the Station. Commander Hastings fined the first and second prisoners $5 each, with the option of fourteen days' hard labour, for the assault upon the coolie, and the third prisoner $3, or, fourteen days' imprisonment. They were each ordered to pay the coolie $2 compensation. For the assault upon the Police, the first prisoner was fined $7, or twenty-eight days' imprisonment, with hard labour; the

On the occasion of the anniversary of the battle of Salamanca (22nd July, 1812), the band and drummers of the King's Own Regiment give a military tattoo on the Hongkong Cricket Club Ground. A portion of the ground was reserved for the tattoo by a body of military police, and seats were provided for a number of the spectators. The band of the regiment played an excellent programme of music. At halfpast nine o'clock, the tattoo commenced in a slight shower of rain. A body of lamps bearers, headed by the drum and fife band. marched from the Parado Ground, and the men moved into appointed positions several paces spart round the reserved space, make ing a very effective display. The massed bands then assembled in front of the position occupied by H. E. Major General Black and party, where the buglers sounded the ' First Post.' To an English march 'English Songs! the band marched, accompanied by lamp-bearers, and an exceedingly pretty manceuvre was the advance of the band through the extended lines of the drums and fifes. that the developments proceed slowly, the Americans are making sure of their ground, and the Revolutionaries are closing in upon Manila and going on towards a Provisional Government. That if peace be declared before the city of Manifa is captured, or is surrendered, the situation will become complicated. That the great distinction between Cuba and Manila appears to me to be this, that the United States went to war to relieve Cuba and America from the anarchical condition of chaos in which that island had been for years; while the descent on the Philippines was purely a warlike reprisal, in which the hitherto unsuccossful Filipinos wore called in as assistants. That General Aguinaldo, while considering the policy which will most conduce to the well-being of his followers, will do well to carefully mark the sums of the times, and the possibility that any undue friction may undo all the good he has as yet succeeded in doing.

That I may say, for what it is worth, the policy of the Revolutionary General so

That the organisation by Agninaldo of Provisional Government, pending the Protectorate of the United States, need not tend to anything but the maintenance of order and fair government.

hat the arrangement of these matters should not present any insuperable difficulty, so long as Aguinaldo recognises the advantages of a strong Protectorate, for two reasons-for the successful administration of the Islands, and for their protection from outside Powers.

hat, so far a the provinces around Manila are concerned, there oughb to be no great trouble in establishing an Ameri can Protectorate, with Aguinaldo and his officers as aids.

That outside of that appear the troubles may drise, and it is just possible (I do not say probable) the Americana may get tired of the task. That, as British trade interests are paramount, and Great Britain has still some olaims to be heard regarding a reasonable solution of the question, a joint pro tectorate inight be arranged between the United States and the Old Country, if tariffs could be satisfactorily settled. That little light has been let in-on the Kowloon City Reservation since my last reference, and the sketch map published in the Times gives no indication of the That the exceedingly deliberate manner which the British Authorities proceed such matters, however, will be seen when we consider that Mr Stewart Lockhart's report cannot reach London much before he beginning of November, and its consideration at Home may not be conclud ed before the end of the year. Before the present force left San Francisco a Bill had been introduced into Congress conforring another 1st Lieutenant as Ordnance Officer upon the Volunteer Regiments. The officers of a Regiment of Regulars comprise 1 Colonel, 1 Lieut. -Colonel, 2 Majors, 1 Quartermaster ranking as 1st Lieutenant, one Regimental adjutant ranking as 1st Lieutenaut, 1 Captain and icutenants for each Company of 100 men, It will thus be seen that under normal conditions the Volunteer Regiments have five more officers than the Regular Regiments. But it must be remembered that the officers of the Regular army being re- of peace. quisitioned for special duties the Regimental strength of officers is often below normal. In the case of the 14th Regiment, for instance, some of the of ficers have been transferred to the command

Volunteer Regiments, others are on the Hendquarters Stuff, some are serving in Alaska and at Astoria, and others ongaged on special duties, such as recruiting, with the result that some of the companies have only one officer and he a 2nd Lieu! tenant. Considering that the Regiment is going into action and may have to hear the brunt of the fighting, this is a very serious state of affairs. It should be stated that in the American army an officer drawe the pay of the rank he is called upon to fill. that a 2nd Lieutenant commanding a company draws pay as Captain, and a Captain in command draws the pay of a Colonel, -The regulars are armed with the new Krag Jorgensen, magazino rifle, which is thought of very highly by the officers This rifle has a 315 in. calibre or bore, and is sighted up to 2078 yards. The weight of the rifle is 9 lb. 8 oz.; and the magazine carries five cartridges. The bullet is of lead, with copper and nickel envelope, and weighs 237 grains. The weight of charge, smokeless power, almost wholly nitro-glycerine and guncotton, is 34 grains, and the muzzle velocity of the bullet is 1968 feet per second. The volunteers use the Springfield rifle, a serviceable weapon, with which some high scores have been made at target practice, although the trajectory is not so low as that of the newer weapon.

One does not require to have an extensive knowledge of matters military to notice many minor details wherein the American soldier differs from the English soldier Lying awake on a mosquito-invaded cot, I constantly hear the following ;-Halt Who's that ?!

HONOKONO, SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1898. THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The climate of Luzon Island is excellent. and the Spanish undisciplined troops tender age and frail physique will have little chance against the swarthy Americans and Aguinaldo's party. It is provisionally agreed that Aguinaldo shall not up a local Republic General Aguinaldo's plan, I am informed, is to establish at Manila a con pal Islands will be invited. I do not hesitate to prophesy that, unless under European or American control, the scheme will end in complete failure. At first, no doubt, the Islanders will welcome cooperate in any arrangement which will rid them of monastic oppression. . Philippine Islands, however, would not remain one year a pescaful united Archipologo under an independent nutivo government. It is an utter impossibility. There is such racial antipathy that the Visayas would not, in this generation, submit to what they would always consider a Tagalog Republic, and the Tagalogs having procured the overthrow of the Spaniards would naturally resent a preponderance of Visaya influence. Families there are very

to prove the tendency to disintegrate. native likes to localize, to bring everything he requires, or aspires to, within his ownsmall circle. If his ambition were to ho a leader of men he would be content to be a are going to the useless trouble of putting king in his own town. Natives' ideas are the drawbridges in order and flooding the not expansive and far-reaching. Then the question arises, who would be the electors ? of which would be very effectual against The masses are decidedly too ignorant to be espable of roting intelligently. votes would be entirely controlled by stitutes the trading contro. Here are cliques of landowners. If the native republic did succeed would not be strong enough to protect itself against foreign aggression. The Islands kind and the bombardment of the Spanare a splendid group, well worth picking ling to annex them. I entertain the firm little idea of union. The rivalry for pres-public would last only until the novelty of the situation had worn off. Then I they did the rest could be as well accomthink every principal island would, after the other, declare its independence. Finally there would be complete chaos, and do not consider the robels concentrated before that took root America, or some European nation would probably have interfered. I cannot doubt that General Aguinaldo is quite alive to those facto nevertheless, I admire his astuteness entering on any plan which, by hook or by crook, will expel the friers. If the conviction that an approtected united re-

Republic failed, at least monastic power has proved a great failure from the beginwould never return. A Protectorate under a strong nation is just as necessary to ensure good adminiatration in the Islands as to protect them against foreign attack. Either Great Britain or America would be equally welcome the wake to promote the happiness and wellto the Islanders if they had not the vanity being of the subjected rages. The two to think they could govern themselves. Unless America decided to start on a brand greed. Liberty to till the land and take new policy it would hardly suit her, I cone to place to call the wild fruits of Nature, jecture, to accept the mission of a protector- has only been wrung out of the Spaniards ate so distant from her oblef interests. England having ample resources so pear at hand would probably find it a less irksome task. For the reasons given above the anywhere. The natural result is reaction, control would have to has very direct one. I would go so far as to suggest that the for nothing at the hands where Mother of government should be styled The Philippine Country. It scome almost moredible that Protectorate. There might be a Chamber del Castillo, himself a historian, accustomed of Deputies, with a native president. The to look back and weigh the consequences of Protector and his aix advisers should stategraft should have been so blind to the by American or English. The franctions of Ministers should be vested in realisable was the theme of Cuba libre. But the Advisers, and those of President (of a stubborn pride and a failure to act opporrepublic) in the Protector. In any case the glory. Unfortunately this very glory has finance could not be confided to a native compelled her to pick up the gauntlet. The inducement to finance himself would thrown down by the United States.

there is the Island of Corregidor which, fortified and equipped with modern armament, would command the entrance to the bay. Six miles S.E. of Manila City there is a little neck of land on which stand the fort and arsenal of Cavite. Cavita and the headland are now in possession of Admiral Dowey's forces. An attack on the Americans by sea is of course out of the question since the annibilation of the Spanish fleet. Any body of troops moving along that strip of land which connects Cavite with the mainland of the island could be effectually shelled from the American ships. Dowey and his party are therefore perfectly safe pending the arrival of reinforcements.

The City of Manila is practically divided into two parts. The official or walled City is built on the left bank of the Pasig river and the commercial city is situated on the Island of Binondo which forms the right bank of the same river. They are connectod by a well-built stone bridge a little over a mile up the river. Proceeding up the gress to which deputies from all the princi- river, which is very tortuous, one reaches a. largo lake fod by numerous streams which flow down the crevices of the surrounding mountains. The banks of the Pasig are beautifully picturesque, quaint and interesting. For about a mile and a half from the stone bridge mentioned, they are dutfed with charming villas, the English Club at Nagtajan, the Governor General's châlet Ac., surrounded by palm trees and all the luxurious grandeur of tropical vegotation. In early morning the Pasig presents a lively sceno with the hundreds of canocs skidding rapidly down stroam ladon with supplies for the capital. Excepting a few shops and craftsmen's workrooms there is no trade in the wolled city, the principal buildings being the Cathedral, many churche , the Archbishop's Palace, the University, high schools, military and civil Government offices, an ordnance dépôt and other official establishments. The Governor General's official residence was destroyed by an earthquake in 1863 and a now one is in course of construction. The walls which entirely closely united, but as a people they have | encircle the city were, no doubt, a formidable defence up to a century ago, but are juito usoless against modern artillery. This is fully recognised by the Spaniards and another on the same coast is sufficient themselves who have indeed frequently discussed their demolition, but tradition and a just appreciation of their worth in case of rebellion have preserved them. the ordnance mounted on the walls there are two pieces of modern type. According to the latest reliable advices the Spaniards surrounding mosts and throwing curth-works and sand bag defences, all an unaupported attack of the robels only. Across the river the quarterof Binondo (with the suburbs) con-

located the foreign and other morchants' offices and warehouses and the whole trade of Marilla is transacted on this side of the river.
